Newport Is Too Small to Protect Americans in Santo Domingo.

San Domingo, Jan. 15 .- The revolutionary general Navarro, having seized cattle on an estate at La Fe, which is an American property, the agent of the estate applied to United States Minister Powell for protection. The minister was compelled to refuse the request as he has no force at his command sufficient to guard the estate. The force on the United States gunboat Newport is too small to safeguard estates from pillagers, and in order to protect United States property, the minister says there is great need of a larger warship here. If the revolutionists should enter the city just now it would be impossible to prevent the pillage which would be sure to take place, and there is no other warship here to support the Newport should i be found necessary to land men.

An incident which came near having serious results, but for the coolness | cued them. and prompt intervention of United States Minister Powell, took place here on the arrival of the Clyde line steamer New York. The worry comes from the fact that the peculiar predicament in which linvesota Republicans find themselves is almost sure to result in a contesting delegation from this state.

Mr. Poppenberg was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters and North Star Lodge, I. A. of M., of this city. He had been a resident of this city for many years and was universally liked by all who knew him. He learned his trade, that of a machinist, in this city and has virtually grown up from boyhood in the city and had scores of friends. The funeral services will probably be held on Wednesday morning from St. Francis' Catholic church, and it is understood that they will be under North Star lodge auspices.

THE DISPATCH joins with the many friends of the bereaved family in extending sympathy.

The remains of the late Frank B. Hawley arirved in the city on Sunday morning from the west, accompanied by Earl Hawley who went west to get them. They were met at the train by several old friends of the deceased and were removed to his late home on tenth street north. The funeral services were held this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Francis Catholic church, Rev. Father Lynch offlicating, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, there was a very good turnout. The bereaved mother, who is considered an estimable lady, has the sympathy of a large circle of friends in the city.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Jule C. Jamieson were held this morning at the first Congregational church at 11 o'clock, Rev. Richard Brown officiating. There were brief services at the house at 10:30 o'clock after which the body was taken to the church, the members of the Maccabee Ladies turning out in a body as escort. The church was crowded with friends and relatives of the deceased and the ceremonies were very impressive. Rev. Richard Brown preached a very powerful sermon, and paid a high tribute to the deceased, whom, he said he had often visited and prayed with during her confinement just prior to her death. He stated that he was more than interested in this death and was sure that the community in general would extend sympathies to the bereaved husband and son. The interment was made in Evergreen cemetery. The floral offerings were very beautiful, especially the large piece from the members of the Ladies of the Maccabees.

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the funeral services, impressive and largely attended, over the remains of of the late little Miss Ruth Alger, were held at the family residence in East Brainerd, Rev. Richard Brown officiating. Interment was made in Evergreen cem more than its share of affliction these days, for it is seldom that so many deaths have occurred within a short space of time. The last to be added to the list of the dead was Conrad Poppenberg, who passed away last evening about 7 o'clock at the Northern Pacific Sanitarium where he was taken a few days ago to undergo an operation for appendicitis. Both before and after the operation was performed little hope was held out to relatives and friends and it was thought from the first that his recovery would be one of the impossibilities, for his case had advanced to that perilous stage when there is very little hope for the patient to pull through.

The young man was taken to the sanitarium on Friday evening and it was deemed necessary, as a last resort, to perform the operation for appendicitis at once. During the night the members of the family were called and it whose ancestors went to Africa in 1689, was thought that he would not survive | will describe the battles and incidents until morning. He revived, however, in which he played a conspicuous part, toward morning and Saturday was con- among them being the causes of the war, sidered some better, but it was only a temporary change for he sank very rap-, idly and all day yesterday death was momentarily expected.

The deceased was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Poppenberg, of battle of Modder river, Lord Methune's East Brainerd. He was 29 years of age and those who survive him besides his parents, three sisters and four brothers, are his beloved wife, Mrs. Lottie Poppenberg, and twochildren. The sisters are the Misses Rose, Kitty and Margaret Poppenberg and the brothers Messrs. Henry J., Leo and Willie Poppenberg, who reside in Brainerd, and Matt Poppenberg, who resides at Des Moines,

Mr. Poppenberg was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters and North Star Lodge, I. A. of M., of this city. He had been a resident of this city for many years and was universally liked by all who knew him. He learned his trade, that of a machinist, in this city and has virtually grown up from boyhood in the city and had scores of friends. The funeral services will probably be held on Wednesday morning from St. Francis' Catholic church, and it is understood that they will be under North Star lodge auspices.

THE DISPATCH joins with the many friends of the bereaved family in extending sympathy.

The remains of the late Frank B. Hawley arirved in the city on Sunday morning from the west, accompanied by Earl Hawley who went west to get them. They were met at the train by several old friends of the deceased and were removed to his late home on tenth street north. The funeral services were held this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Francis Catholic church, Rev. Father Lynch offlicating, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, there was a very good turnout. The bereaved mother, who is considered an estimable lady, has the sympathy of a large circle of friends in the city.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Jule C. Jamieson were held this morning at the first Congregational church at 11 o'clock, Rev. Richard Brown officiating. There were brief services at the house at 10:30 o'clock after which the body was taken to the church, the members of the Maccabee Ladies turning out in a body as escort. The church was crowded with friends and relatives of the deceased and the ceremonies were very impressive. Rev. Richard Brown preached a very powerful sermon, and paid a high tribute to the deceased, whom, he said he had often visited and prayed with during her confinement just prior to her death. He stated that he was more than interested in this death and was sure that the community in general would extend sympathies to the bereaved husband and son. The interment was made in Evergreen cemetery. The floral offerings were very beautiful, especially the large piece from the members of the Ladies of the Maccabees.

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the funeral services, impressive and largely |. attended, over the remains of of the late little Miss Ruth Alger, were held at the family residence in East Brainerd, Rev. Richard Brown officiating. Interment was made in Evergreen cem-

BOARD WILL NOT BE ARBITRARY

Secretary Bracken Interviewed on The Dispatch List of Eligibles in the Question of Sewers and Septic Tanks.

PURPOSE OF THE RESOLUTION

Passed by Board is to Establish Some Point from Which to Work in Future.

Then there is also the bagpiping | protection of our sources of water supply from pollution. It is provided in ity of the programme. From present | the resolution that sewer systems to be indications there will be an overflowing | built in the future cannot be so constructed as to discharge into streams or other bodies of water, unless the sewage is first purified by being put through septic tanks or filter beds according to plans approved by the state board of health. That regulation will be rigidly enforced, beginning at once.

"It was necessary that some such precaution should be adopted, or as our and our smaller cities increase in size our sources of water supply would become so polluted as to make all kinds of trouble. It is a simple enough matter for a village that is just putting in a new sewer system to include a septic tank and the necessary filter beds to prevent the contamination of the stream into which the sewage is discharged.

"In fact, any of the smaller places in the state could, without heavy expense or great trouble, install septic tanks and filter beds, but we recognize the fact that the larger cities will not find the problem so easy of solution, and our board is not disposed to impose any hardship upon them unnecessarily.

"Whenever it is found that a city, by discharging its sewage into a stream, is contaminating the water supply of a city farther down the stream, and endangering health in that place, it is the duty of this board to act, and this resolution pike and you can't touch him with an gives us a footing from which to act. Clifton A. Allbright. Now it would seem as though everything that has been said about the other young men whose names have been in this column could be repeated in this case, but of course we don't want Clifton old boy, to swell up too much on this score. Did you ever walk into the office of this young Blackstonian scholar and at once become possessed with a sense of the pervading homelike atmosphere, and if you have not suggested that you are there for business he will entertain you in the most delightful manner. His office is a veritable cosy corner and the young attorney presides over it with great dignity. Brainerd society would not be complete without a dear "Clif," and do you know he is quite a lion and there is always a bustle and hustle when he appears on the scene. He loves mu sic and is a good singer, in fact he has been recently engaged at a high salary to sing at the First Congregational church, is a charming dancer, is a popular member of the militia company. but is not one of the "awkward squad." and delights in appearing on the stage in the role of a comedian. His pastime when he is not entertaining the girls is to sing "The Joneses Boys" or recite "Casey at the Bat." Mr. Allbright first came to public notice when he assumed the task of playing end man in a minstrel performance in this city some years ago, and since that time he has gradually risen, step by step, to honor and fame. He has some good traits girls and you should not overlook them. He is regular at his meals, goes to bed early, at tends church once and awhile and is studious, has established himself in Brainerd quite successfully and is owner of lands and property. Should you find after being successful in capturing this young man that things are not what they seemed, Clif. can just assist you in getting a separation again and he would be as indifferent as could be too. BOARD WILL NOT BE ARBITRARY

Secretary Bracken Interviewed on the Question of Sewers and Septic Tanks.

PURPOSE OF THE RESOLUTION

Passed by Board is to Establish Some Point from Which to Work in Future.

"It is not the intention of the state board of health to be arbitrary, or unnecessarily exacting in the inforcement of its resolution as to city sewer systems that discharge into streams," said Secretary Bracken, of the state board of health, a few days ago.

"The purpose of the adoption of the resolution at this time is to assert the position of the board and to establish a standpoint from which to work in the protection of our sources of water supply from pollution. It is provided in the resolution that sewer systems to be built in the future cannot be so constructed as to discharge into streams or other bodies of water, unless the sewage is first purified by being put through septic tanks or filter beds according to plans approved by the state board of health. That regulation will be rigidly enforced, beginning at once.

"It was necessary that some such precaution should be adopted, or as our and our smaller cities increase in size our sources of water supply would become so polluted as to make all kinds of for a village that is just putting in a new sewer system to include a septic tank and the necessary filter beds to prevent the contamination of the stream into which the sewage is dis-

"In fact, any of the smaller places in the state could, without heavy expense or great trouble, install septic tanks and filter beds, but we recognize the fact that the larger cities will not find the problem so easy of solution, and our board is not disposed to impose any hardship upon them unnecessarily.

"Whenever it is found that a city, by discharging its sewage into a stream, is contaminating the water supply of a city farther down the stream, and endangergives us a footing from which to act. The board, however, expects to accomplish more by reasonable methods than

Clifton A. Allbright. Now it would seem as though everything that has been said about the other young men whose names have been in this column could be repeated in this case, but of course we don't want Clifton old boy, to swell up too much on this score. Did you ever walk into the office of this young Blackstonian scholar and at once become possessed with a sense of the pervading homelike atmosphere, and if you have not suggested that you are there for business he will entertain you in the most delightful manner. His office is a veritable cosy corner and the young attorney presides over it with great dignity. Brainerd society would not be complete without a dear "Clif," and do you know he is quite a lion and there is always a bustle and hustle when he appears on the scene. He loves mu sic and is a good singer, in fact he has been recently engaged at a high salary to sing at the First Congregational church, is a charming dancer, is a popular member of the militia company, but is not one of the "awkward squad." and delights in appearing on the stage in the role of a comedian. Is down for a stunt in the Elks' minstrels, and girls you want to see him in this, for you will probably be able to discern how clever state becomes more densely populated he really is. His pastime when he is not entertaining the girls is to sing "The Joneses Boys" or recite "Casey at the Bat." Mr. Allbright first came to pubtrouble. It is a simple enough matter lie notice when he assumed the task of playing end man in a minstrel performance in this city some years ago, and since that time he has gradually risen, step by step, to honor and fame. He has some good traits girls and you should not overlook them. He is regular at his meals, goes to bed early, attends church once and awhile and is studious, has established himself in Brainerd quite successfully and is owner of lands and property. Should you find after being successful in capturing this young man that things are not what they seemed, Clif. can just assist you in getting a separation again and he would be as indifferent as could be too. Get him before June, girls, for when he blossoms out in the summer in his "glad ing health in that place, it is the duty rags" he is the warmest thing on the of this board to act, and this resolution pike and you can't touch him with an eighty-rod pole. It is cold now and it would be smoother sailing. You should recite poetry to him, for he is one of those poetical geniuses who would be carried away with something real soft and mellow. Lose no time on him, fair one, but just plant your septre right in It is not necessary for residents of the front of him and make him look at the

BOAT SINKS IN ECHO RIVER.

Commission Merchants Have Narrow Escape in Mammoth Cave.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 18.—Eighteen delegates to the convention of the Na tional League of Commission Mer chants were Sunday thrown into the icy waters of Echo river, which winds a tortuous course through Mammoth cave and were saved only by the cool ness of the guide. John Nelson, and the prompt work of Charles A. Muchl bronner of Pittsburg, Pa. The party included C. Stacey of Minneapolis, Edward Tubbesing and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fillebrown of St. Paul.

The roof of the cave over the Echo river is arched and the space in the center, owing to an unaccountable rise in the river, was only two and a half feet above the water. In order to ensure the passage of the boat the men and women were forced to stoop over. At one place the boat swerved to one side, raking the heads of the These leaned farther forward to es cape striking their heads. This lowered one end of the boat and the water began to flow in rapidly. The guide saw the danger and called to Mr. Muchibronner to jump and take the chain. This he did, landing on a steep bank, which offered only a slight foothold. Lying down on his face he held to the chain and pulled the boat toward the bank, but it sank in eight feet of water. By the light of a single lantern the party escaped by climbing over Mr. Muchlbronner's prostrate form, and after waiting several hours for a boat were brought in safety to daylight.
